Should I buy a battery bank for my RV Solar System?

Your battery bank is a very important (and potentially expensive) component of your RV solar system, so you should do plenty of research on the best RV batteries before you buy.

Which battery is best for a flooded RV?

AGM batteries are now the most popular lead-acid RV batteries. While AGM batteries are slightly more expensive than the other two, flooded batteries require consistent maintenance and gel batteries have low discharge/recharge rates. If you are going with lead-acid batteries, choose AGM.

Are lithium RV batteries durable?

This traditionally isn't a problem, but the best batteries are built with a sturdy housing that isn't going to break or crack when subject to the bouncing that comes along with driving an RV. The best way to analyze the durability of a lithium RV battery is to dive into the user reviews for each battery you're interested in.

What are the different types of RV batteries?

"AGM" includes batteries labeled "lead acid", "flooded", and "gel". AGM batteries are now the most popular lead-acid RV batteries. While AGM batteries are slightly more expensive than the other two, flooded batteries require consistent maintenance and gel batteries have low discharge/recharge rates.

Which battery type is the best for solar storage?

For solar storage in RVs and camper vans, lithium batteries are the most efficient and longest-lasting option. They are more expensive upfront but more economical in the long term due to their extended shelf life and charge cycles.
