How much does a solar battery cost?

Historically, solar batteries have had a reputation for being prohibitively expensive, with many recorded instances where adding storage doubled the cost of a home solar installation. You can expect to pay between $7,000 and $18,000 for a solar battery.

How much does it cost to install a battery?

On average, it costs around $1,300 per kWh to install a battery before incentives. With the 30% federal tax credit applied, the cost is closer to $1,000 per kWh. Update: This tax is only available to home battery storage systems installed by December 31, 2025. Here's what that looks like for common battery system sizes:

Why are solar batteries so expensive?

There are a handful of factors that influence the price of solar batteries, but perhaps the greatest reason they are expensive is simply because residential-scale batteries are a newer technology, and new technologies tend to be expensive at first before rapidly falling in price as the market matures.

Are solar batteries worth it?

Solar batteries typically cost $10,877 after the federal tax credit--which expires for batteries installed after December 31, 2025--for the 13.5 kilowatt-hours (kWh) of storage a typical home needs to keep essential devices running during outages (also the size of a Tesla Powerwall 3). Whether they're worth it depends entirely on your situation.
