

Stromer solid state battery

While it's still just a concept, Stromer has been working with TD Hitech as a supplier to create a new solid-state ceramic ebike battery. Made from layers of ceramic, the claim is that it will enable fast charging in an hour or less.

Stromer hits the glass ceiling: solid-state ceramic batteries could solve current battery problems Electric batteries have long been the talk of the town. The mobility industry - especially the automotive sector - is working to ...
