The Chinese concern Zhangjiagang Guotai-Huarong New Chemical Materials has a plan to build the largest electrolyte plant for lithium-ion batteries at the territory of Poland. The Chinese Capchem also wants to build this type of plant here. On the other hand, Korean Kyungshi is preparing to expand cable production in Poland.

Why is energy storage important in Poland?

With the rising share of intermittent renewable power, large-scale battery storage systems are becoming critical to maintaining grid stability. By addressing challenges such as peak load balancing and frequency regulation, energy storage enhances the resilience and flexibility of Poland's electricity system.

Why is Poland a leader in lithium-ion batteries?

They mainly go to other EU member states. But in order to maintain the position of the EU leader and, at the same time, successfully compete with Asian producers, Poland must not only further develop its production capacity, but also produce lithium-ion batteries with a lower carbon footprint. Their invention and popularization changed the world.
